Re: FET Flagship Proposal "FuturICT"

To whom it may concern

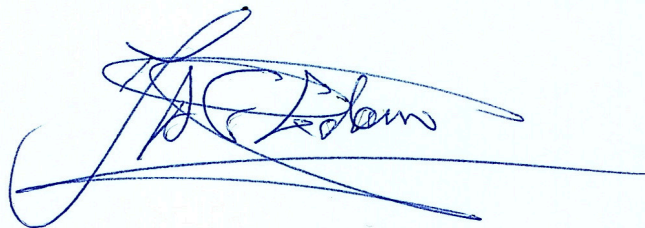

Mister Javier A. García Sedano, General Manager of OPTIMITIVE, is pleased to confirm the interest and full support of this company for the FET Flagship proposal "FuturICT".

OPTIMITIVE (www.optimitive.com) is a Spanish company that offers advanced IT systems for on-line improvement of industrial processes. We develop proprietary technology and products, based on the understanding of concerns of manufacturing companies. These products focus on helping companies to manufacture with the most energy efficiency and environmental awareness that their facilities permit, allowing the highest return on their investment. By these means, they become more competitive and at the same time we help them to comply with environmental regulations.

We collaborate with the private sector, with Research Centers (e.g. Tecnalia) and with Spanish Universities (e.g. Universidad del País Vasco) as well.

OPTIMITIVE is looking forward to working together with the consortium on the final definition of the FuturICT project during the Coordination Action (Pilot phase).
